1 SEN. MCCONNELL: We will call the meeting
2 to order at this time so we can begin.

3 Good evening. I'm Glenn McConnell, State
4 Senator from Charleston, Chairman of the Senate
5 Judiciary Committee. I welcome you to one of ten 6 local public hearings of the South Carolina Senate 7 Judiciary Committee's Redistricting Subcommittee is 8 holding across the state.

9 I would like to begin by giving you a brief
10 overview of the restricting process so that you can 11 understand what we're trying to accomplish and how 12 tonight's hearing fits into that process.

13 First, let me introduce the members of the 14 subcommittee. It's a bipartisan group of senators 15 from different regions of the state who bring a 16 wealth of experience working to create bold and 17 innovative solutions to the problems in 18 South Carolina.

19 From the Upstate -- I will ask each of you
20 to please raise your hand. From the Upstate, Senator
21 Larry Martin of Pickens County; Senator Phillip 22 Shoopman of Greenville County; from the Midlands we 23 have Senator Brad Hutto, Orangeburg; from the 24 Lowcountry, Senator Robert Ford and myself; from the 25 Pee Dee area we have Senator Gerald Malloy of

1 Darlington; and from the Grand Strand, we've got 2 Senator Ray Cleary from Georgetown.

3 As the redistricting subcommittee of your 4 Senate, we are charged with one of the most important 5 tasks of the General Assembly which is to initiate 6 the process of redistricting. We must recommend 7 legislation to the Senate Judiciary Committee, which 8 will redraw South Carolina's 46 State Senate 9 Districts and the State's Congressional Districts to 10 include a new seventh seat.

11 Likewise, there is a subcommittee in the 12 House of Representatives that is charged with drawing 13 a plan for the 124 districts in that body of the 14 legislature and crafting its own version of a 15 congressional plan.

16 While the House and Senate have 17 historically deferred to one another when it comes to 18 the plans for their respective bodies, their 19 congressional plans may ultimately have to be 20 reconciled from the legislative process through a 21 conference committee.

22 If the two bodies agree on a redistricting
23 plan, it must be submitted to the governor for her 24 signature in the same manner as any other bill that 25 is passed by the General Assembly.

1 Finally, under Section 5 of the Voting
2 Rights Act, any plan that is enacted into law will 3 have to be precleared by the Justice Department or 4 the Federal District Court in Washington before it 5 can take effect.

6 The reason we have to redistrict is to 7 ensure that our state's legislative and congressional 8 districts represent substantially equal populations 9 thereby ensuring that each person's vote is given the 10 same weight as another's in our system of 11 representation. Ideally, each of the State Senate 12 Districts will have to have 100,552 people. And each 13 of our state's congressional districts will have 14 660,767 persons.

15 The census results that are being released 16 this week will tell us substantially to which the 17 state's districts deviate from these ideal numbers.
18 District lines will have to be redrawn so that some 19 districts gain population and others lose population 20 in order to restore the required quality of 21 representation.

22 To begin the process of redrawing
23 districts, we are holding hearings in order to listen
24 to your views on the redistricting process. Let me 25 say at the outset that we are not here for the 1 purpose of considering proposed redistricting plans.

2 The subcommittee has yet to reach that stage of the 3 process. When that time comes, we will have an 4 opportunity for the public to submit specific plans 5 for the subcommittee to consider.

6 Instead, this evening we are here to 7 consider the building blocks of those future plans.
8 We need to hear your opinions on the criteria that 9 you believe we should follow in the drawing process.
10 We also want to know about the communities of 11 interest that we should be aware of when drawing new 12 district boundaries.

13 Examples of redistricting criteria will be 14 requirements that considerations should be given to 15 communities of interest, the cores of existing 16 districts, county, municipal, or precinct lines,
17 compactness, contiguity as well as applicable laws
18 and constitutional standards.

19 We would like you to let us know how 20 important these criteria are to you and whether there 21 are other criteria that you believe we should take 22 into account when drawing district lines.

23 As for communities of interest, they may be 24 neighborhoods, towns, or other political subdivisions 25 that have common interests that define them for

1 purposes of political representation. It could also 2 be areas defined by common economic interests or 3 characteristics, cultural affiliations, recreational 4 interest, or other factors that cause people to 5 identify with one another. We would like to hear 6 from you about communities of interest that you
7 perceive to exist in the area and how you believe 8 they should be considered in the process of drawing
9 district boundaries.

10 As we begin this first of a series of 11 public hearings, let us set three general ground
12 rules governing the information we receive. Clarity, 13 brevity and civility. These ground rules will be 14 important if we are to ensure that every citizen gets 15 a full and fair opportunity to be heard.

16 So first, we need to ask those testifying 17 to be clear. Redistricting is an exact process, and 18 clarity is a virtue. For example, when speaking 19 about criteria, communities of interest, it is 20 important that citizens distinguish between whether 21 they are talking about congressional or senate 22 districts as the subcommittee must consider both.

23 The smaller size of senate districts often 24 renders impossible the task of keeping large 25 communities of interest intact. The same may not be

1 true of congressional districts. So this distinction
2 will be important. Along the same lines, please 3 explain why you believe an area is a community of 4 interest and where it is located. To assist you, we 5 have maps available for you to mark and identify 6 particular areas that you consider to be communities 7 of interest.

8 Let us say brevity is our second ground 9 rule for discussion. We want to afford everyone the 10 opportunity to express themselves fully and 11 effectively. We encourage everyone who is interested 12 in this process to participate by speaking before the 13 subcommittee at a public hearing or sending written 14 information. Written comments will receive the same 15 consideration as spoken ones. We don't want to 16 establish rigid time limits of speaking at these 17 public hearings; however, we would encourage you to 18 have a goal of speaking no more than five minutes so 19 everyone may be heard.

20 If someone makes a point that a speaker 21 agrees with, let us encourage him to simply state his 22 or her agreement and not repeat the idea at length.
23 If a citizen would like to submit an extended written 24 statement, we will accept it for consideration. The 25 handouts available to you provide the U.S. Mail and 1 e-mail addresses to which comments may be sent.

2 When speaking, we hope persons will make 3 the basic points and allow others to express their 4 opinions. If we can all agree to this general 5 suggestion, we should be able to hear from all the 6 interested parties.

7 Third, we must stress civility as a ground
8 rule for discussion. Let's work together on these 9 plans, and we must not allow this task to become 10 mired in controversy and fall out in partisan 11 backbiting. Let us use the general ground rules:
12 Clarity, brevity, and civility, to have a positive 13 and purposeful start for the redistricting process.

14 Finally, in order to facilitate 15 communication with the subcommittee and give the 16 public a way of keeping track of the process, I 17 encourage all citizens interested in redistricting to 18 consult our Web site, which is located at 19 <http://redistricting.scsenate.gov>. This address of 20 the redistricting Web site is also included in the 21 handouts.

22 At the Web site, you will find useful 23 information such as the dates and locations of our 24 public hearings and subcommittee meetings,
25 redistricting data, referencing materials, guidelines

1 for future participation in the process.

2 Thank you for giving your time and being 3 willing to come and contribute to this process. And 4 we will proceed to call those that have indicated a 5 desire to speak before us and hear from them now, and 6 I'll start with Senator John Matthews.

7 Senator, it's a pleasure to have you with 8 us.

9 SENATOR JOHN MATTHEWS: Thank you,
10 Mr. Chairman.

11 First of all, I would like to welcome all 12 of you to -- thank you.

13 First of all, I would like to welcome all
14 of you to OC Tech, the best tech school in the state.
15 I want to thank you for coming.

16 Secondly, I want to make two comments,
17 maybe three comments. That in drawing for senate 18 districts, I would hope that you take in 19 consideration to protect the rural interests and to 20 do that because our rural districts may not have 21 grown as fast as other districts. I hope we adopt a 22 high variance, plus or minus 12 percent, and draw 23 those rural districts at the lower end because our 24 population just hasn't grown sufficiently as the 25 rest -- kept up with the rest of the growth of the 1 state.

2 The second thing, I hope that you would 3 look at the Congressional Section 5 and protect the 4 congressional standards for those minority districts 5 and keep those intact. But if you do that, you also 6 will protect rural interests. So I think that's 7 probably the most important thing I want to say to 8 you.

9 And on your congressional basis, secondly 10 -- thirdly, let me say this. I think this county has 11 enjoyed two senators for quite a while now. I hope 12 you will keep that intact. We've enjoyed that, and I 13 think the people will concur with that.

14 And finally on the congressional area, I
15 think there's a possibility to go more of a Midland 16 kind of district, which I kind of support. And then 17 on the Seventh District, I think you've got two 18 options now, three options. You can go up -- upper 19 part of the state and do that, you can go down do the 20 Pee Dee. I also think you can also consider a more 21 influenced district for that second -- for that new 22 congressional seat that we are going to draw. I 23 think if you keep those factors in mind, I think most 24 people will be happy.

25 And thirdly, I will probably be submitting

1 some written comments at a later date. And I assume 2 this will be part of the official record?

3 SEN. MCCONNELL: Yes, it is.

4 SENATOR JOHN MATTHEWS: Is there any time
5 frame on submitting written comments, or we can 6 submit them any time between now and the close of the 7 hearings?

8 SEN. MCCONNELL: We will be for the next
9 ten nights, next two weeks doing hearings. Three 10 weeks. So Friday, the 8th of April.

11 SENATOR JOHN MATTHEWS: That's when you 12 want all your written comments in?

13 SEN. MCCONNELL: Yes.

14 SENATOR JOHN MATTHEWS: Thank you very 15 much. That's all I have to say.

16 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you. We appreciate
17 it. Thank you for the hospitality and the welcome.
18 We very much enjoy being here.

19 Next we've got Mr. Roy Lindsey.

20 Mr. Lindsey, if you come forward, you are 21 welcome to go up to this podium here and speak so 22 they can hear you and we can hear you on the sound 23 system. That way everybody can participate.

24 MR. LINDSEY: Thank you for this 25 opportunity. I am the executive committeeman for

1 Orangeburg County Republican Party. In every 2 election we're told that if we can turn out 11,000
3 Republican votes in Orangeburg County, the Republican 4 Party will carry the state. And the last election we 5 turned out 10,950, and the rest is history.

6 But as things are now with the districts
7 drawn the way they are, and senators, the way I'm 8 talking about right now, 11,000 Republicans in 9 Orangeburg County have zero representation in the 10 South Carolina Senate. I would just ask that we 11 somehow be moved around -- the lines be moved around 12 to where at least some of us are represented in the 13 South Carolina Senate.

14 On the South Carolina Congressional 15 Districts level, I got to confer with 16 Senator Matthews about compacting and making the 17 districts -- it was just like the Second District 18 goes from Richland all the way to the coast. That's 19 the way I guess it had to be last time because I
20 appeared before you last time on that. More compact 21 areas of interest, same people on the same page 22 would -- it couldn't hurt and have to help. That's 23 all I have to say. Thank you.

24 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you, sir.

25 Professor Harvey Elwood. Welcome to the 1 podium, also.

2 PROFESSOR ELWOOD: Good evening, Senators.

3 And I'll be brief. My only interest, and I'm not a

4 statistician. I have not done the numbers. I

5 haven't crunched the numbers other than the 6 population numbers. We have in 29 percent

7 African-American population in our state. There are 8 seven of you all that are sitting here. There is a

9 proposal that we will get a new congressional seat.

10 My only hope is that that seat would be reflective of 11 the number of you all that are sitting here now. We 12 have two African-Americans and five white members.

13 So that would only be congruent.

14 Your numbers here reflect the population of 15 the state. What I'm looking for out of it in terms

16 of a new congressional district, I'm not looking for

17 a set aside, I'm looking for proportional

18 representation based on culture, class, race,

19 ethnicity and those things that people have in 20 common. And I feel that an African-American

21 representative representing people would be a little

22 more adherent, sensitive, knowledgeable about the 23 population of people that they would serve. And I

24 don't think there's anything wrong with saying that.

25 I want to thank you very much for this

1 opportunity.

2 SEN. MCCONNELL: I want to thank you for 3 taking the time to come, sir.

4 Hou-Yin Chang.

5 MR. CHANG: Good evening, gentlemen.

6 SEN. MCCONNELL: Good evening to you.

7 MR. CHANG: My name is Hou-Yin Chang from 8 Orangeburg, and I am an active businessman in the IT 9 field with Orangeburg Business Machines.

10 I am looking at the districts, both in the 11 senate and the congressional districts. I am looking 12 here at this map of the way the current region is, 13 and I see myself here in Limestone 2. What I have 14 found over the years with the influence of Lexington 15 County expanding into Sandy Run and that area, this 16 part of Orangeburg in the senate district is not as 17 compatible with Barnwell, Bamberg and Allendale as it 18 is closer to Pelion and Lexington.

19 So it should be important that the parts of 20 Orangeburg that for the most part lie past Interstate 21 26 in this part and closer to where the Second 22 Congressional District is currently, is more 23 concurrent with the Lexington side than it is these 24 three counties down there. So that's one thing I've 25 noticed.

1 And as for the U.S. Congressional 2 Districts, it's the same point that this part right
3 now, as it stands, is more concurrent with Lexington 4 than it is in the Pee Dee. Right now parts of 5 Orangeburg are in the Pee Dee District, and I do not 6 see us with the same culture as the Pee Dee. I don't 7 see people in this part of Orangeburg going out to 8 Francis Marion, going out to Coastal or any of that.

9 And this part where we live, we are more
10 likely to support Lexington and Richland area, 11 especially Lexington, because as the industries come,
12 such as Amazon and all these new industries come 13 through here, what will happen with the people, they 14 are going to start moving into this area where we 15 are. And we're more natural to be in with this side 16 in both our Senate and our U.S. House representation.

17 Because right now as it stands, we are not 18 represented at all by our current legislature in the 19 state senate. And I am very proud to say that our 20 current member of the U.S. House has helped us. But 21 it is important that we keep ourselves to be aligned 22 closer here because I don't see Bamberg, Barnwell, 23 Allendale, they're all Augusta. And I don't see us
24 with Augusta anymore.

25 Up until 20 years ago, we had Augusta

1 television stations. You have to remember. Now we 2 don't. And so since all of us in this area, we side
3 with this area, including that with that area. So 4 keep the fact that the expansion of Lexington and the 5 flight of the people having to move into this area 6 will make it where we are more in line with the 7 Lexington area than we are with the Augusta area or 8 even the Pee Dee.

9 Thank you.

10 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you, sir.

11 Mr. Jim Ulmer.

12 MR. ULMER: Good evening, and welcome to 13 Orangeburg. Thank you for coming, gentlemen.

14 We've got cities and towns and counties
15 that are hurting all over this state, all over 16 South Carolina. You all just got the budget, and you 17 all have a lot of work to do.

18 We need representation in our 19 South Carolina legislature that is fair to our 20 citizens. I have a little bit different take from 21 what you're going to hear from everybody else 22 tonight. One man, one vote, and taxation without 23 representation ring very true in South Carolina 24 today.

25 There are counties in our state where our

1 fellow citizens do not have a senator nor a 2 representative who reside in their county. There are 3 counties in our state that have numerous senators 4 from the same county with districts drawn in a 5 basically arbitrary, gerrymandered manner. It is 6 based upon population, race, and political 7 motivation. No one is served justice.

8 The population centers gained the most 9 representation in the House and Senate, and therefore 10 the most powering influence and economic benefits.
11 Schools and economic development are direct 12 indications of the level of representation
13 communities have in Columbia.

14 Allendale County has no one who resides 15 there serving in the legislature. They have the 16 worst schools in the state.

17 House Majority Leader Kenny Bingham
18 graduated from Brookland-Cayce High School and 19 Carolina, opened an engineering firm in Cayce right
20 next door to Brookland-Cayce. Lives in Moss Creek
21 between the U.S. Post Office Bulk Mail Distribution
22 Center and Cayce water treatment plant and is a 23 deacon at Trinity Baptist Church. He served on that 24 school board, now represents that district in the 25 statehouse along with a bunch of other

1 representatives and senators in the Lexington County
2 delegation.

3 Kenny is a fine man and a personal friend,
4 but I don't know if he gets out of the 25-square-mile 5 area cocoon where he grew up and lives much more 6 often than to attend fundraisers and his daughter's 7 soccer matches. I don't think he sees the troubles
8 we do in education in Allendale, Bamberg, Barnwell, 9 Calhoun, and Orangeburg counties. He's certainly not 10 alone in that. The "Corridor of Shame" wouldn't 11 exist if there were adequate fair representation in 12 Columbia.

13 Economic development is similar. BMW and 14 Boeing follow the variety of attractive things to 15 Spartanburg and Charleston and set up shop; however, 16 many of those attractions were enhanced by the 17 Upstate and Charleston area adding so many senators.
18 Taxes from the cash registers in the less represented 19 counties and the pockets of the residents of those 20 counties go to Columbia for the legislature to spend.
21 Without a doubt, the good citizens of those areas are 22 less known and understood, and their concerns are,
23 therefore, less known and understood by the members 24 of the legislature than they would be if their 25 representative and senator lived in their county.

1 That's only human nature.

2 Having two bodies in our General Assembly 3 whose makeup is strictly based upon population is 4 simply not fair. Back in the 1700s, the 5 constitutional convention was debated. The makeup of 6 the legislative branch of the proposed federal 7 government. There was so much division on the issue, 8 that this constitution almost was not ratified. The 9 most populous colonies like Virginia, New York, and 10 Massachusetts wanted one body with representation 11 based on population for financial contributions to 12 the government's caucus.

13 It was thought they would gain an upper 14 hand over the less populated colonies. Smaller 15 colonies populationwise, like New Jersey, held out 16 for the idea that each state should have the same 17 number of representatives in one legislative body.
18 The bigger colonies didn't like this. This deadlock 19 went on for months until the great compromise was 20 proposed by Roger Sherman of Connecticut. His plan, 21 which became known as the Connecticut Compromise, 22 gave each state two senators to represent their state
23 regardless of the size and population in the Senate,
24 and gave each state at least one member of the House 25 of Representatives regardless of the population of 1 each state, with a balance of the members of the 2 House apportioned to the state supporting the 3 population.

4 This gave the states power on equal footing 5 in one-half of the legislative branch and gave the 6 individual citizens and the states equal 7 representation, as well. Two senators each represent 8 the whole state, and representatives, of course, 9 represent the citizens from their respective 10 districts in that state.

11 Why, pray tell, can each of the 46 counties 12 have one senator in Columbia and each county have at 13 least one member of the House of Representatives in 14 Columbia from that county with the 78 remaining 15 representatives of the 124 total being apportioned
16 according to population. And the representatives 17 from counties having population entitling them to 18 more than one member of the House, have them assigned 19 to equally-sized populationwise single-member 20 districts within the county. This would be fair to 21 everyone regardless of population, race, and 22 political persuasion.

23 The population centers around Beaufort,
24 Charleston, Myrtle Beach, Columbia, Lexington, and 25 Greenville, Spartanburg, Anderson wouldn't like it.

1 And that's most of you all. But we haven't liked the 2 status quo out in the country, like Senator Matthews
3 said, for a long time.

4 Also, districts should be drawn along
5 county lines and natural boundaries and major 6 highways in order to bring some sanity into the 7 process. It would also be wonderful if congressional 8 districts could be drawn in such a manner to have 9 areas that show common interests together and have 10 groupings of whole counties make up the districts.
11 This would also bring sanity to the entire political 12 process.

13 Follow your brilliant minds and sell your 14 strategic skills. If you gentlemen, the members of 15 the legislature, truly wanted to do the will of the 16 people and you find a way to do this to satisfy and 17 alleviate any legal challenges from the Justice
18 Department, I know you public fine public servants 19 do.

20 Thank you very much.

21 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you, sir.

22 Mr. Benny Kinlaw.

23 MR. KINLAW: Thank you, gentlemen, for 24 setting up these meetings and allowing us to come and 25 to speak and getting our input. We appreciate that.

1 I'm from Barnwell County in Senate District
2 40. And we need representation in -- for Barnwell, 3 for Allendale. And this is the forgotten part of the 4 state, as often referred to. We talk about the 5 "Corridor of Shame" in that. I would like to see 6 someone who will represent us in Columbia, that when 7 we call, that when we ask, that we receive that help.

8 I would like -- and I got the numbers this 9 afternoon. They came out late and published them -- 10 looked at the total numbers for District 40. And 11 Allendale, Barnwell, Bamberg lost population growth.
12 Orangeburg actually gained population growth, to my 13 surprise.

14 But as we expand these boundaries, we know 15 that we're going to have a larger geographic area, 16 and we're going to pick up another almost 11,000
17 people, which is a larger area to cover, and it's not 18 being represented now. That's the concern that I 19 have. And the congressional district, we're in 20 District 2. Every time that I've called 21 Congressman Wilson's office and asked for help, 22 working last week and this week for a veteran, he's 23 responded very promptly. And we have had that under 24 wraps, and we've had a lot of help.

25 We appreciate the opportunity. We would

1 like to encourage everyone, as you're looking at 2 this. We know you have a large, huge challenge ahead
3 of you over the next few weeks, how many more 4 meetings you have. We thank you for coming and for 5 presenting this opportunity. We want to move the 6 people in our area forward.

7 We have huge challenges in Allendale and 8 Barnwell and Bamberg County, we recognize that. I've 9 spent a lot of time traveling that area. So thank 10 you so much.

11 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you, sir.

12 Next Representative Jerry Govan will come 13 to testify before the Senate panel. Always good to 14 have the House.

15 REPRESENTATIVE GOVAN: Good evening. It's 16 a pleasure to have this esteemed panel of State
17 Senators here in God's country joining
18 Senator Matthews and myself here in Orangeburg County
19 and I see my good friend Lonnie Hosey there.

20 Members of the Committee, including you,
21 Senator Hutto, thank you all for allowing me just a 22 few minutes to say a few words about redistricting.

23 First of all, I want to say some of the 24 things that Senator Matthews shared with you, I 25 concur with. I would just like to again just

1 reiterate that in terms of the decisions that you
2 make with regards to redistricting, that you adhere 3 to those, quote, principles of one person one vote, 4 14th and 15th Amendments of the Constitution, the 5 Voting Rights Act, the Federal Constitution Statutory 6 Provision that's interpreted by law. And in addition 7 to that, as much as possible, to look at compactness 8 and other ideals that make this process work.

9 Specifically in terms of the Seventh 10 Congressional District that is anticipated, I would 11 sincerely hope that you, in your divine wisdom, as 12 you consider drawing those lines, ensure that that 13 district reflects or gives this state the opportunity 14 to reflect the diversity in terms of its population, 15 in terms of representation either from the influence 16 standpoint or create an opportunity for a 17 representative -- a representative that reflects the 18 population of this state to have an opportunity.

19 This is not an easy job, I understand, that 20 you all are going through. But certainly we believe 21 that based on your past performance that you will do 22 the right thing.

23 Thank you so much.

24 SEN. MCCONNELL: Thank you, sir.

25 Mr. Howard Glover.

1 Mr. Glover?

2 Is there anyone else who wishes to address 3 the panel that we don't have the paperwork on?

4 If not, then I guess we will proceed to our 5 next. Senator from Orangeburg. We'll proceed to 6 you.

7 SEN. HUTTO: I appreciate your adding these 8 additional meetings tonight and tomorrow in Sumter.
9 I do think it's important that we not only have the 10 hearings in the metropolitan areas. And welcome to 11 the rural areas of South Carolina. I do appreciate 12 you all coming to Orangeburg. I appreciate everybody 13 who is here tonight.

14 We just got the numbers today. I guess 15 everybody is still digesting them. But we will be 16 interested to hear, as we go forward over these nine 17 days, ten-day, ten-city tour. Welcome to Orangeburg, 18 and I hope now that we've -- it looks like we don't 19 have any more testimony, you all might join me. I'll 20 show you around town.

21 SEN. MCCONNELL: With that, we'll stand in 22 recess until we reconvene in Sumter tomorrow night.

23 (The hearing concluded at 7:06 p.m.)
